SCHEDULE 5

WARRANTS

Warrants

1. Resolution

Pursuant to the authority to issue warrants without preemption rights to the Company's shareholders for shares with a nominal value of up to DKK 5,000,000 given to the Board of Directors pursuant to Article 6A of the Articles of Association, the Board of Directors passed a resolution on 15 April 2005 to issue warrants entitling the holders to subscribe shares with a nominal value of up to DKK 3,650,000. In consequence thereof, the Board of Directors concurrently passed a resolution concerning the related capital increase of up to DKK 3,650,000 nominal value. In so doing, the Board of Directors specified the following terms and conditions for subscription and exercise of the warrants and for the related cash capital increase:

2. Subscription period and consideration

The warrants may be subscribed by certain specified management employees of the IC Companys Group in the period from 18 April 2005 to 30 April 2005, inclusive.

No consideration shall be paid for the warrants.

3. Amount and exercise price

Each warrant entitles the holder to subscribe one share of DKK 10 at the price corresponding to the average market price (based on "All trades" in the official price list) over the past five business days prior to the decision by the Board of Directors to issue warrants – however, not less than the closing price "all trades" quoted by the Copenhagen Stock Exchange on 15 April 2005 – plus 5% p.a. from 15 April 2005 per share of DKK 10 nominal value.

The capital increase that can be subscribed on the basis of the warrants cannot be more than DKK 3,650,000 nominal value and not less than DKK 10 nominal value, see however clause 6 below, which provides that the number of shares subscribable based on the warrants may be adjusted in certain circumstances.

A list of warrants issued shall be kept in connection with the Company's Register of Shareholders.

4. Exercise of the warrants

4.1 The warrants granted can be exercised by subscribing shares during a period of up to two weeks from publication of the Company's profit announcement for the 2006, 2007 and 2008 financial years (in the following referred to as "subscription periods").

During each subscription period, up to one third of the warrants granted can be exercised at one time to subscribe shares in the Company. Unexercised warrants from one subscription period can be transferred to any subsequent subscription period.

Notice of exercise of warrants shall be received by the Company within the subscription periods specified. Notices shall specify the employee's custody account with the Danish Securities Centre (Værdipapircentralen), and the employee shall pay the subscription price when submitting the notice.

4.2 Exercise of the warrants is subject to the employee not having terminated his employment on the exercise date. Unexercised warrants shall lapse without compensation from the date when the employee has terminated his employment with the Company or its subsidiaries.

5.1 Extraordinary exercise

Notwithstanding clause 4.1 above, the employee may also exercise his warrants in event of the following:

- (a) The Company's ownership changes in circumstances which – pursuant to the Danish Securities Trading Act – give rise to a duty for the acquirer to make an offer to take over the shares held by the remaining shareholders of the Company.
- (b) The Company decides to delist the Company's shares.

Exercise of warrants by the employee according to (a) and (b) above shall be subject to the employee having submitted a written notice of exercise to the Company's Board of Directors not later than three months from publication of such offer or such decision to delist the Company's shares.

5.2 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve to demerge the Company otherwise than as described in clause 6.5 below or to liquidate the Company, the employee shall be entitled to exercise any unexercised warrants notwithstanding the provisions of clause 4.1 above. In that event the employee shall, within two weeks of the Company's announcement of the resolution to demerge/liquidate, notify the Company in writing that he wishes to exercise his warrants. At the same time, the employee shall pay the subscription amount.

After expiry of this period, any warrants in respect of which notice of exercise has not been given, shall lapse automatically without notice or compensation.

6. Adjustment of subscription price and/or number of shares subscribable by exercising the warrants in case of changes in the Company's capital structure

In case of changes in the Company's capital structure, the subscription price referred to in clause 1 above or the number of shares that can be subscribed by exercising the warrants, shall, in certain circumstances, be adjusted, see clauses 6.1-6.8 below. Capital increases in connection with exercise of the warrants shall not result in adjustment of the subscription price or the number of shares.

6.1 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve

- to increase the Company's share capital at a price lower than the market price;
- to issue warrants, convertible debt, stock options or similar instruments that entitle the holder to subscribe shares in the Company at a price lower than the market price at the time of issue;
- to reduce the Company's share capital by distribution to the shareholders at a price higher than the market price;

the subscription price shall be reduced to such extent that the market value of the warrants remains unchanged.

6.2 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve

- to increase the Company's share capital at a price higher than the market price; or
- to reduce the Company's share capital by distribution to the shareholders at a price lower than the market price;

the subscription price shall be increased to such extent that the market value of the warrants remains unchanged.

6.3 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve to merge the Company with the Company as the discontinuing company, the warrants shall be transferred so that they entitle the holder to subscribe shares in the continuing company, and the subscription price/the number of shares that can be subscribed by exercising the warrants shall be increased or reduced to such extent that the market value of the warrants remains unchanged.

6.4 Where the Company issues bonus shares to the existing shareholders, the number of shares that the employee can subscribe by exercising his warrants shall be increased proportionately, and the subscription price shall be reduced to the effect that the total subscription price for the increased number of shares corresponds to the subscription price for the original number of shares.

6.5 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve to demerge the Company, whereby all shareholders receive a proportionate number of shares in the new company or companies while also retaining shares in the Company, the employee shall receive warrants in the new company or companies in the same proportion as the Company's shareholders receive shares in the new company or companies. Furthermore, the subscription price at the time of exercising the warrants shall be adjusted to such extent that the market value of the warrants remains unchanged.

6.6 Where the Company's share capital is reduced to cover a loss, the number of shares the employee can subscribe by exercising the warrants shall be reduced (rounded down) so as to position the employee, as far as his capital interest in the Company is concerned, as if the warrants had been exercised immediately prior to the resolution to reduce the capital. The subscription price shall not be changed.

6.7 In case of price-relevant changes in the Company of a nature and with consequences to the employee similar to those described in clauses 6.1-6.6 above, a corresponding adjustment shall be made to the subscription price.

6.8 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve

- to increase or reduce the Company's share capital at market price;
- to merge, the Company being the continuing company;
- to issue shares, warrants, convertible bonds, subscription rights, stock options or similar instruments to employees and/or the management of the Company or its subsidiaries in connection with a general employee share programme, possibly at a price below the market price; or
- to pay dividend;

the subscription price and the number of shares that can be subscribed shall not be adjusted.

6.9 Where one of the acts referred to in clauses 6.1-6.7 above takes place prior to an exercise period, the Company's Board of Directors shall request that the Company's auditor calculates the adjustment to be made, so that the result of the calculation can be sent in writing to the employee not later than one week prior to the beginning of the relevant exercise period.

The auditor's calculation shall be made in accordance with accepted principles. Where the calculation is to be based on a determination of the Company's market capitalisation, such determination shall be made in accordance with generally accepted principles, duly taking into account the market price of the Company's shares. The auditor's calculation shall be final and binding on the Company and the employee.

Where adjustments made pursuant to clause 6 hereof result in a subscription price below par, the general rule is that the warrants cannot be exercised. The employee can, however, exercise the warrants on accepting an increase to par of the subscription price without any entitlement to compensation for such increase.

7. Assignment

The warrants cannot – except with the consent of the Company’s Board of Directors – be taken in execution, be assigned or transferred in any other way, including in connection with a division of property, neither to be held nor as security.

8. Tax consequences

The tax consequences in connection with subscription of the warrants and their exercise shall be of no concern to the Company.

9. Terms and conditions of new shares

Pursuant to the Board of Directors’ resolution on issuance of warrants, the following terms and conditions shall apply to new shares issued by exercise of warrants:

that there shall be no preemption rights to the existing shareholders in respect of new shares issued on the basis of the warrants;

that payment for new shares issued on the basis of the warrants shall be made in cash on subscription;

that new shares issued on exercise of the warrants shall be issued to named holders and recorded in the Company's Register of Shareholders;

that new shares issued on exercise of the warrants shall be negotiable instruments;

that new shares issued on exercise of the warrants shall not be subject to restrictions to the preemption rights in case of future capital increases;

that new shares issued on exercise of the warrants shall rank for full dividends and carry other rights in the Company as from the financial year in which the shares are subscribed, but not for the preceding financial year;

that if, prior to the exercise of the warrants, the rights attaching to the Company’s shares have been altered in general, new shares issued on exercise of the warrants shall rank pari passu with the other shares in the Company at the time of such exercise; and that the Company shall pay the costs arising out of the issue of the warrants and subsequent capital increases in connection therewith. The Company’s costs arising out of the issue of the warrants are DKK 15,000 and the costs of the related capital increases are estimated at DKK 30,000 for each capital increase.

10. Implementation of capital increase

The Board of Directors shall effect the capital increases related to the exercise of the warrants pursuant to the provisions of section 36 of the Danish Companies Act. For details on the rights attaching to the new shares, see clause 9 above.

2008 and 2009 financial years (in the following referred to as "subscription periods").

During each subscription period, up to one third of the warrants granted can be exercised at one time to subscribe shares in the Company. Unexercised warrants from one subscription period can be transferred to any subsequent subscription period.

Notice of exercise of warrants shall be received by the Company within the subscription periods specified. Notices shall specify the employee's custody account with the Danish Securities Centre (Værdipapircentralen), and the employee shall pay the subscription price when submitting the notice.

4.2 Exercise of the warrants is subject to the employee not having terminated his employment on the exercise date. Unexercised warrants shall lapse without compensation from the date when the employee has terminated his employment with the Company or its subsidiaries.

5.1 Extraordinary exercise

Notwithstanding clause 4.1 above, the employee may also exercise his warrants in event of the following:

- (a) The Company's ownership changes in circumstances which – pursuant to the Danish Securities Trading Act – give rise to a duty for the acquirer to make an offer to take over the shares held by the remaining shareholders of the Company.
- (b) The Company decides to delist the Company's shares.

Exercise of warrants by the employee according to (a) and (b) above shall be subject to the employee having submitted a written notice of exercise to the Company's Board of Directors not later than three months from publication of such offer or such decision to delist the Company's shares.

5.2 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve to demerge the Company otherwise than as described in clause 6.5 below or to liquidate the Company, the employee shall be entitled to exercise any unexercised warrants notwithstanding the provisions of clause 4.1 above. In that event the employee shall, within two weeks of the Company's announcement of the resolution to demerge/liquidate, notify the Company in writing that he wishes to exercise his warrants. At the same time, the employee shall pay the subscription amount.

After expiry of this period, any warrants in respect of which notice of exercise has not been given, shall lapse automatically without notice or compensation.

6. Adjustment of subscription price and/or number of shares subscribable by exercising the warrants in case of changes in the Company's capital structure

In case of changes in the Company's capital structure, the subscription price referred to in clause 1 above or the number of shares that can be subscribed by exercising the warrants, shall, in certain circumstances, be adjusted, see clauses 6.1-6.8 below. Capital increases in connection with exercise of the warrants shall not result in adjustment of the subscription price or the number of shares.

6.1 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve

- to increase the Company's share capital at a price lower than the market price;
- to issue warrants, convertible debt, stock options or similar instruments that entitle the holder to subscribe shares in the Company at a price lower than the market price at the time of issue;
- to reduce the Company's share capital by distribution to the shareholders at a price higher than the market price;

the subscription price shall be reduced to such extent that the market value of the warrants remains unchanged.

6.2 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve

- to increase the Company's share capital at a price higher than the market price; or
- to reduce the Company's share capital by distribution to the shareholders at a price lower than the market price;

the subscription price shall be increased to such extent that the market value of the warrants remains unchanged.

6.3 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve to merge the Company with the Company as the discontinuing company, the warrants shall be transferred so that they entitle the holder to subscribe shares in the continuing company, and the subscription price/the number of shares that can be subscribed by exercising the warrants shall be increased or reduced to such extent that the market value of the warrants remains unchanged.

6.4 Where the Company issues bonus shares to the existing shareholders, the number of shares that the employee can subscribe by exercising his warrants shall be increased proportionately, and the subscription price shall be reduced to the effect that the total subscription price for the increased number of shares corresponds to the subscription price for the original number of shares.

6.5 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve to demerge the Company, whereby all shareholders receive a proportionate number of shares in the new company or companies while also retaining shares in the Company, the employee shall receive warrants in the new company or companies in the same proportion as the Company's shareholders receive shares in the new company or companies. Furthermore, the subscription price at the time of exercising the warrants shall be adjusted to such extent that the market value of the warrants remains unchanged.

- 6.6 Where the Company's share capital is reduced to cover a loss, the number of shares the employee can subscribe by exercising the warrants shall be reduced (rounded down) so as to position the employee, as far as his capital interest in the Company is concerned, as if the warrants had been exercised immediately prior to the resolution to reduce the capital. The subscription price shall not be changed.
- 6.7 In case of price-relevant changes in the Company of a nature and with consequences to the employee similar to those described in clauses 6.1-6.6 above, a corresponding adjustment shall be made to the subscription price.
- 6.8 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve
- to increase or reduce the Company's share capital at market price;
 - to merge, the Company being the continuing company;
 - to issue shares, warrants, convertible bonds, subscription rights, stock options or similar instruments to employees and/or the management of the Company or its subsidiaries in connection with a general employee share programme, possibly at a price below the market price; or
 - to pay dividend;

the subscription price and the number of shares that can be subscribed shall not be adjusted.

- 6.9 Where one of the acts referred to in clauses 6.1-6.7 above takes place prior to an exercise period, the Company's Board of Directors shall request that the Company's auditor calculates the adjustment to be made, so that the result of the calculation can be sent in writing to the employee not later than one week prior to the beginning of the relevant exercise period.

The auditor's calculation shall be made in accordance with accepted principles. Where the calculation is to be based on a determination of the Company's market capitalisation, such determination shall be made in accordance with generally accepted principles, duly taking into account the market price of the Company's shares. The auditor's calculation shall be final and binding on the Company and the employee.

Where adjustments made pursuant to clause 6 hereof result in a subscription price below par, the general rule is that the warrants cannot be exercised. The employee can, however, exercise the warrants on accepting an increase to par of the subscription price without any entitlement to compensation for such increase.

7. Assignment

The warrants cannot – except with the consent of the Company’s Board of Directors – be taken in execution, be assigned or transferred in any other way, including in connection with a division of property, neither to be held nor as security.

8. Tax consequences

The tax consequences in connection with subscription of the warrants and their exercise shall be of no concern to the Company.

9. Terms and conditions of new shares

Pursuant to the Board of Directors’ resolution on issuance of warrants, the following terms and conditions shall apply to new shares issued by exercise of warrants:

that there shall be no preemption rights to the existing shareholders in respect of new shares issued on the basis of the warrants;

that payment for new shares issued on the basis of the warrants shall be made in cash on subscription;

that new shares issued on exercise of the warrants shall be issued to named holders and recorded in the Company’s Register of Shareholders;

that new shares issued on exercise of the warrants shall be negotiable instruments;

that new shares issued on exercise of the warrants shall not be subject to restrictions to the preemption rights in case of future capital increases;

that new shares issued on exercise of the warrants shall rank for full dividends and carry other rights in the Company as from the financial year in which the shares are subscribed, but not for the preceding financial year;

that if, prior to the exercise of the warrants, the rights attaching to the Company’s shares have been altered in general, new shares issued on exercise of the warrants shall rank pari passu with the other shares in the Company at the time of such exercise; and that the Company shall pay the costs arising out of the issue of the warrants and subsequent capital increases in connection therewith. The Company’s costs arising out of the issue of the warrants are DKK 15,000 and the costs of the related capital increases are estimated at DKK 30,000 for each capital increase.

10. Implementation of capital increase

The Board of Directors shall effect the capital increases related to the exercise of the warrants pursuant to the provisions of section 36 of the Danish Companies Act. For details on the rights attaching to the new shares, see clause 9 above.

SCHEDULE 8

WARRANTS

1. Resolution

Pursuant to the Board of Directors' authority to issue warrants without preemption rights to the Company's shareholders for shares with a nominal value of up to DKK 700,000 given to the Board of Directors pursuant to Article 6A of the Articles of Association, the Board of Directors passed a resolution on 23 November 2006 to issue warrants entitling the holders to subscribe shares with a nominal value of up to DKK 300,000. In consequence thereof, the Board of Directors concurrently passed a resolution concerning the related capital increase of up to DKK 300,000 nominal value. In so doing, the Board of Directors specified the following terms and conditions for subscription and exercise of the warrants and for the related cash capital increase:

2. Subscription period and consideration

The warrants may be subscribed by Thomas Ulstrup, employed with IC Companys A/S as Brand Director of InWear, in the period from 12 April 2007 to 30 April 2007, inclusive.

No consideration shall be paid for the warrants.

3. Amount and exercise price

Each warrant entitles the holder to subscribe one share of DKK 10 at the price corresponding to the average market price (based on "All trades" in the official price list) over the past five business days prior to the decision by the Board of Directors to issue warrants – however, not less than the closing price "all trades" quoted by the Copenhagen Stock Exchange on 11 April 2007 – plus 5% p.a. from 11 April 2007 per share of DKK 10 nominal value.

The capital increase that can be subscribed on the basis of the warrants cannot be more than DKK 300,000 nominal value and not less than DKK 10 nominal value, see however clause 6 below, which provides that the number of shares subscribable based on the warrants may be adjusted in certain circumstances.

A list of warrants issued shall be kept in connection with the Company's Register of Shareholders.

4. Exercise of the warrants

4.1 The warrants granted can be exercised by subscribing shares during a period of up to two weeks from publication of the Company's profit announcement for the 2007,

2008 and 2009 financial years (in the following referred to as "subscription periods").

During each subscription period, up to one third of the warrants granted can be exercised at one time to subscribe shares in the Company. Unexercised warrants from one subscription period can be transferred to any subsequent subscription period.

Notice of exercise of warrants shall be received by the Company within the subscription periods specified. Notices shall specify the employee's custody account with the Danish Securities Centre (Værdipapircentralen), and the employee shall pay the subscription price when submitting the notice.

4.2 Exercise of the warrants is subject to the employee not having terminated his employment on the exercise date. Unexercised warrants shall lapse without compensation from the date when the employee has terminated his employment with the Company or its subsidiaries.

5.1 Extraordinary exercise

Notwithstanding clause 4.1 above, the employee may also exercise his warrants in event of the following:

- (a) The Company's ownership changes in circumstances which – pursuant to the Danish Securities Trading Act – give rise to a duty for the acquirer to make an offer to take over the shares held by the remaining shareholders of the Company.
- (b) The Company decides to delist the Company's shares.

Exercise of warrants by the employee according to (a) and (b) above shall be subject to the employee having submitted a written notice of exercise to the Company's Board of Directors not later than three months from publication of such offer or such decision to delist the Company's shares.

5.2 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve to demerge the Company otherwise than as described in clause 6.5 below or to liquidate the Company, the employee shall be entitled to exercise any unexercised warrants notwithstanding the provisions of clause 4.1 above. In that event the employee shall, within two weeks of the Company's announcement of the resolution to demerge/liquidate, notify the Company in writing that he wishes to exercise his warrants. At the same time, the employee shall pay the subscription amount.

After expiry of this period, any warrants in respect of which notice of exercise has not been given, shall lapse automatically without notice or compensation.

6. Adjustment of subscription price and/or number of shares subscribable by exercising the warrants in case of changes in the Company's capital structure

In case of changes in the Company's capital structure, the subscription price referred to in clause 1 above or the number of shares that can be subscribed by exercising the warrants, shall, in certain circumstances, be adjusted, see clauses 6.1-6.8 below. Capital increases in connection with exercise of the warrants shall not result in adjustment of the subscription price or the number of shares.

6.1 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve

- to increase the Company's share capital at a price lower than the market price;
- to issue warrants, convertible debt, stock options or similar instruments that entitle the holder to subscribe shares in the Company at a price lower than the market price at the time of issue;

6.3 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve to merge the Company with the Company as the discontinuing company, the warrants shall be transferred so that they entitle the holder to subscribe shares in the continuing company, and the subscription price/the number of shares that can be subscribed by exercising the warrants shall be increased or reduced to such extent that the market value of the warrants remains unchanged.

6.4 Where the Company issues bonus shares to the existing shareholders, the number of shares that the employee can subscribe by exercising his warrants shall be increased proportionately, and the subscription price shall be reduced to the effect that the total subscription price for the increased number of shares corresponds to the subscription price for the original number of shares.

6.5 Where the Company's competent bodies resolve to demerge the Company, whereby all shareholders receive a proportionate number of shares in the new company or companies while also retaining shares in the Company, the employee shall receive warrants in the new company or companies in the same proportion as the Company's shareholders receive shares in the new company or companies. Furthermore, the subscription price at the time of exercising the warrants shall be adjusted to such extent that the market value of the warrants remains unchanged.

- 6.6 Where the Company's share capital is reduced to cover a loss, the number of shares the employee can subscribe by exercising the warrants shall be reduced (rounded down) so as to position the employee, as far as his capital interest in the Company is concerned, as if the warrants had been exercised immediately prior to the resolution to reduce the capital. The subscription price shall not be changed.
- 6.7 In case of price-relevant changes in the Company of a nature and with consequences to the employee similar to those described in clauses 6.1-6.6 above, a corresponding adjustment shall be made to the subscription price.

 - to pay dividend;

the subscription price and the number of shares that can be subscribed shall not be adjusted.

- 6.9 Where one of the acts referred to in clauses 6.1-6.7 above takes place prior to an exercise period, the Company's Board of Directors shall request that the Company's auditor calculates the adjustment to be made, so that the result of the calculation can be sent in writing to the employee not later than one week prior to the beginning of the relevant exercise period.

The auditor's calculation shall be made in accordance with accepted principles. Where the calculation is to be based on a determination of the Company's market capitalisation, such determination shall be made in accordance with generally accepted principles, duly taking into account the market price of the Company's shares. The auditor's calculation shall be final and binding on the Company and the employee.

Where adjustments made pursuant to clause 6 hereof result in a subscription price below par, the general rule is that the warrants cannot be exercised. The employee can, however, exercise the warrants on accepting an increase to par of the subscription price without any entitlement to compensation for such increase.

7. Assignment

The warrants cannot – except with the consent of the Company’s Board of Directors – be taken in execution, be assigned or transferred in any other way, including in connection with a division of property, neither to be held nor as security.

that the Company shall pay the costs arising out of the issue of the warrants and subsequent capital increases in connection therewith. The Company’s costs arising out of the issue of the warrants are DKK 5,000 and the costs of the related capital increases are estimated at DKK 30,000 for each capital increase.
